Winter 'warmers', & more!

2018 kicked off big style with another really memorable event filled 2 days: 2 auctions, the BIG Show, lotsa trading, & lots of socialising/ drinking. Bad weather is an organisers worst nightmare but Winter showers deterred few, gate up again on this time last year, bucking trends elsewhere? Clare & I got saw zilch, stuck ensuring everything ran smoothly. Herewith a selection of higher fliers with 'add-ons' to show exact costs:

Pot lids: Nothing high flying, the unique (?) damaged Kingfisher bird feeder clearly knocked it, thus just £130, b & w Skelton (tiny bottom edge nick) made its money @ £100, the Maws tradesmans travelling 'how to make toothbrushes' sample went to an "esteemed establishment" for just £130 - not floating any boats for lid collectors?

Soft drinks: No mega gb's this time though the 'classy' Baine & Bayles flagon (minor lip flake) reached £240, & Hackett/ Macduff blue print ginger £120. Codd's remain very much 'flavour of the month' - the delightful mid blue Wadsworth (tiny smoothed lip sliver) certainly found its market value @ £2,000, whilst the ultra rare 10oz Bermondsey black lip/ black marble codd saw many desirous chasers... finally halting at £2,700. Most all in this category performed well.

Printed stoneware/ Misc: Minor lip flake repair didn't deter whisky jug connoisseurs pressing the fabulous Priory to a dizzy £950. Some late noticed 'flaws' to the House of Commons (best print seen) & the Robbie Burns jugs recorded £400 & £300. The superb Buchanan pedestalled glass dispenser went across the water @ £550. The very rare small Gibbs Mew & Cos t.t. jug outshone others here @ £350.

Advertising: Strong throughout, condition the crucial factor for enamelophiles - Cleveland Discol £600, BP curcular £570, Emergency Services £400, Canadian Pacific £370.

Cures & meds: Star of the show was always going to be the incredible black glass Daffy, GIVEN to a Midlands collector. 3 telephone bidders battled it out to a fitting finale £4,000. 2 other Daffys, aqua, fared well too @ £500 & £600. The A1 long necked 12ins Handysides Consumption £300, the labelled example £100.

Poisons: Perhaps the 2nd most "hot flavour of the month" - 2 dram cobalt Star (found in a draw) £650, 2.75ins L & T Patent £600, 3.25ins L & T £450, 3.5ins amber Star £570, 4.75ins green Star £350, Neuroline £350, 6.5ins Martins £173, 8.5ins Admiralty £350.

Black glass: diminutive split size English onion £950, c.1655-60 heavily patinated (cracked) shaft & globe £1,800.

Sale total: £42,850

One Saturday visitor said "these Saturday sales continue to increase in terms of quality & importance, moreso now they are live online as well - plenty of bulk, plus good single item lots, & the occasional rarity surprises as did the large Derbyshire Dairies Cream - £708 in total. A very very rare item - but nobody was fooled & it saw the days most frantic bidding."

Saturday sales go LIVE

Our new online auction platform providers easyliveauction.com persuaded us to add the Saturday sale up for the first time ever live online. Unfortunately this did mean there were spaces where you would normally expect to have seen photographs - Aprils Saturday WILL have all lots illustrated. It's quite amazing how this particular, previously low value/ lack lustre, presentation has continued to build and build - and April already looks set to show ever more variety & quality, besides quantity. Introducing the LIVE bidding facility we honed it down slightly to just 400 lots - but they were soon rattled thro', & with practice this could be speeded up, maybe get back up to 500 lots.

Whilst the extra large size Derbyshire Dairies cream pot @ £710 (with add ons) outshone most all others there were many sound performers throughout.

Several enamel signs, entered late, were slipped in here and they all found their true worth on the day. Both the full Saturday & Sundays catalogues are still available to view on easyliveauction.com.
